

Dimitris Soumis was born and raised in Kalamata. He studied Computer Science in the University of Piraeus, and he got a master's degree in informatics from the University of Peloponnese. Currently he is a PhD student at the department of Economics and Telecommunications in the University of Peloponnese, while in parallel he works as a web developer for an advertising company placed in Piraeus.

He is passionate about playing music, fact that led him to a bachelor's degree in classical guitar. He likes to fill his free time with a variety of activities such as photography, literature, travelling, chess, basketball and board games.

He has participated in numerous technological and marketing seminars either as a speaker or as a viewer. He has been awarded for his work as a web developer in several cases.

He is the technical manager of the website of Eye's Walk Digital Festival since 2015.