

Alexandros Tsonis was born and raised in Edessa. He studied Journalism & Communication in Thessaloniki (AUTH), and then he moved to Amsterdam, where he pursued postgraduate studies in Arts & Culture: Comparative Arts & Media Studies. He has been specialized in the intermedia identity of live artistic performances (intermediality) as well as in music criticism. In addition to his role as Social Media Manager and Production Assistant at Eye's Walk, he works as a music journalist and digital platform specialist. Alexandros has been three years with Eye's Walk, while in the past he has collaborated with festival & conference organization agencies and he has been a Communication Manager in artistic collectives.